Correspondence: Teri reported we have two new memberships and also a new sponsorship donation from Mary Belen.

Old Business: None

New Business: Jeri spoke with Terry Skevington in regard to the recent QH show held at the facility. He said things went smoothly and discussed the Covid protocol we will need to implement for our show. The facility requires masks in the office, vendor area, and grandstands along with social distancing. Showers WILL BE OPEN.

A waiver will need to be signed for insurance; Diane will have that form.

Heather has updated our insurance for coverage.

Teri has reserved rooms at host hotel for judges, and Heather will be getting approval to raise cc limit for the day our card is run.

Jeri has a form for the charity class and will inform Julie, Gracie our gate person, and Jennifer of what is expected.

Teri picked up exhibitors' bags from Carolyn at Goldmine; Donna offered to help stuff bags at the show, along with others. Each exhibitor will receive a raffle ticket. The first 100 entered will receive a bag filled with donated items. Thank you, Meredith for donating to cover the cost of the bags. We are waiting on an invoice from Carolyn.

Kristi is working on the awards with a new vendor that does buckle display cases. She has also received donations from equinity and robin hoods for auction items. The shipment of Grand and Reserve ribbons has arrived, and all the awards are here.

Brian and Jeri will sponsor the hospitality table and water again this year.

We have several sponsors; Heather is working on a poster and list to announce.

Stall decorating contest is in the works; one stall will be awarded to the individual or group that wins. That group can decide who gets the stall.

There will be second and third place small items awarded also. Judging will take place Friday at lunch break.

Heather, Jeri, Brian and Meredith are working on patterns.

Buck is working on stalls and as of today we have about 80 reserved.

We have scribes: Yolanda and Meredith and two more that SJPHC has. We only have one Judge that insisted on a scribe for every pattern class other than that they will be using scribes for trail.

Brian has been painting trail obstacles and getting patterns ready to be posted.

A motion was made to adjourn the meeting by Yolanda and second by Heather. Motion carried.
